

ACPD Debuts Neighborhood Coordination Unit

For Immediate Release: May 21, 2019

Today, our newly formed Neighborhood Coordination Unit will begin further serving our Atlantic City community. The 16 police officers, with almost 200 combined years of service, are our department's newest commitment to community-oriented policing. Twelve of these officers will be assigned to the 6 wards within the city, and four to our homeless outreach program.

These officers will be allotted time during their shift to focus solely on community engagement and follow up. They will be available by cell phone for non-emergent matters. They will attend neighborhood and business association meetings. They will focus on quality of life issues as well as crime trends within their wards.

We ask that our residents and businesses welcome these officers, interact with these officers, and provide information to these officers, so they can provide a service to the neighborhoods that has not been seen before.

If these officers need to be contacted, please call our non-emergency phone number at 609-347-5780. A Communications operator will provide the cell phone numbers for the ward officers.
